KAISER HAS WON BIG VICTORY

IS NOW ALMOST THE DICTATOR OF EUROPE.

France's Sacrifice of Deleasse and His Moroccan Policy a Serious Blow to Her Prestige-Germany Aiming Also to Destroy the Anglo-French Agreement.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, June 10.—The new situation in Europe receives fully as much attention as the probable opening of pourpariers by Russia and Japan. It is generally recognized that the Kalser has now acquired a paramountcy on the Continent which makes him almost the dictator of Europe.

All estimates of the fall of M. Delcassé, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, agree that the consequences will be of vast importance not only to France, but to the entire world. France alone seems to, fail to realize the significance of her virtual subordination to Germany. The damage to her prestige is far greater than in the Fashoda affair. There is little doubt that her rulers are convinced that the choice lay between war with Germany and the sacrifice of her greatest statesman.

Premier Rouvier will display toward the Kaiser a consideration the absence of which for the past two years has been most galling to Emperor William's peculiar pride. M. Rouvier will probably accept Germany's demand for an international conference in regard to Morocco and in that case Great Britain will also consent rather than risk a conflict. The Kaiser's complete supremacy will then be patent to all the world. There will probably be an attempt made to placate him with an offer of predominant interest in southern Morocco, with an Atlantic port.

His chief object, of course, is to destroy the Anglo-French entente. He cannot succeed immediately, but he has plenty probably have the deciding voice in the selection of a King of Norway. He desires to create a sort of dreibund of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, under his unofficia tutelage, which shall secure Scandinavial and the Baltic against any future Russian

It is impossible to foresee where the Kaiser's hand will next be shown, but it is not to be supposed that he has yet taken advantage of the opportunities created by the paralysis of Russia. He has reduced France to a satellite without striking a blow. There are some indications that he would have preferred resistance, for he was confident of an easy victory, and the reward would be Madagascar, Indo-China and all other French colonies. American interests at the moment do not appear to be threatened by the vast ambitions of the German Colossus.

EFFECT OF NORWAY'S SECESSION. Opportunity and the Kaiser's Alm Are Clear.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, June 10 .- The separation of Norway and Sweden has opened up general speculation as to what may be the effect on international politics, or to particularize, for only one Power is being considered in this connection, what may be expected eventually from Russia.

The Spectator dismisses the question as one of little importance on the ground that Russia's present plight renders her harmless, while even if at any time Russia should estal...sh a Port Arthur on the Norwegian coast it would not be a bad thing for England. It would rather be the other way, for England would then in case of need have an accessible spot where she could deal a heavy blow. This is perhaps as unduly optimistic as Sven Hedin's prophecy of Russia, England and Germany all occupying ports on the Norwegian coast corresponding to Port Arthur, Wei-hai-wei and Kiaochau is over-gloomy

There is no doubt that those who argue that Russia's check of expansion to sea in the Far East may naturally be expected to be followed by an attempt westward have shrewd supporters. The Kaiser's scheme for the formation of a Scandinavian dreibund, in view of such a contingency, is a sufficiently clear piece of

The question has been mooted whether Sweden will attempt to maintain the union forcibly, but any idea of civil war may safely be dismissed at once. The future form of the Norwegian Government is not so absolutely certain. It may be assumed that King Oscar will persist in his refusal to name a prince of his own house, as the Storthing invited him to do, but a prince of the Danish house or one of the numerous Hohenzollerns might be acceptable to the Norwegians who are in search of a ruler

But the Spectator is unquestionably right in describing the Norwegians as essentially a democratic people, whom a republic on peasant lines would suit best, were it not for the idea that a royal government at Christiania would be better received by the great European family than a republican one.

PROF. BRUNN'S DISCOVERY OF AN ANCIENT PROCESS.

Iron and Steel Manufacturers Interested -Liquid Chemical Compound Which Also Extends the Life of Various Kinds of Matter-Also a Powerful Germielde.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, June 10 .- The Hungarian chemist. Brunn, of the university of the same name, has not revealed, but has described in a paper which vouches for the facts as being well known in the highest scientific circles in America and Europe, his alleged discovery of a liquid chemical compound which renders certain kinds of matter proof against the effects of time. He asserts that it doubles the density of nearly every kind of stone and renders it waterproof. It imparts to all metals qualities which defy oxygen, and thus they cannot rust. It is also a germicide of hitherto unequaled power. The professor says that while traveling in Greece some twenty-five years ago he noticed that the mortar in stones of ruins which were known to be over 2,000 years old was as hard, fresh and tenacious as if it had been made only a year. He secured a piece of the mortar and has been working on it ever since until now, when, he says, he has discovered the secret. The compound is a yellow liquid, which the professor has christened zorene. An interviewer describes the following experiments. A piece of ordinary and easily breakable slag after immersion in zorene defied the full blow of a hammer. There was the same effect on ordinary bricks and a block of red jarrah wood. All three were then immersed in water time. When taken out weighed with delicate scales the presence of a single particle of added moisture could not be detected. Two pieces of steel submitted to an ammonia test equal to five years exposure to the air emerged from the bath as they entered it. An ordinary table knife which had lain open five months did not show the slightest stain. Prof. Brunn asserts that he will be able to make dust, germ, water proof roads, giving a commercial value to hundreds of millions of tons of slag which is now useless in the mining and smelting districts. It will at the very least double the life of metals exposed to the air such as in bridges, railroads, vessels and tanks.

The Evening News announces that a committee representing the railways and iron and steel manufacturers will soon make a thorough test of the discovery.

GRAND JURORS MADE HAPPY.

DIDN'T DO AS COURT WANTED AND EXPECTED A "ROASTING."

Justice Dixon, However, Gave Them the Usual Thanking and Discharged Them - One So Happy He Wanted to "Holler" -Jersey City Offic.a s Not Indicted.

The Hudson County, N. J., Grand Jury concluded its work for the April term of ments found against the Jersey City Police Board, consisting of John Mitchell, Thomas W. Tilden and John F. McNulty, Mayor Mark M. Fagan's uncle, for nonfeasance in failing to compel the police to suppress poolrooms kept by Jerry Murphy and others. The jurors had a lively session lasting over two hours. They discussed among other things the advisability of preparing a report for presentation to Supreme Court Justice Jonathan Dixon explaining why they had not seen fit to find true bills against Chief of Police Benjamin Murphy, Capt. John Cody and subordinate officers doing duty in the neighborhood of Jerry Murphy's poolroom. The Justice practically told them two weeks ago that it was their duty to find such indictments, but the members of the panel had a different opinion. A week ago they voted not to follow his advice so far as the police were concerned, and then decided by a vote of 13 to 10 to indict the commissioners. The Court had not hinted that the board was in any way liable for any laxity on the part of the police. Every juror had an idea that Justice Dixon would haul them over the coals when they went into court to be discharged for refusing to do as he had directed, and it took them a long time to get their courage up for the ordeal. More than one member of the panel confided to friends that if the Justice lectured them very severely they would walk out of court. They contended that the evidence didn't warrant indictments and they were bound by their oaths to vote as their consciences dictated. While the Justice was waiting in his chambers for the jury to file into court many jurors left their room and crossed the street in a arch of a nerve bracing tonic. They made no secret of the fact that they were in need of a stimulant. All this took time, and it lacked ten minutes of the noon hour when constables managed to corral the missing ones and the panel was led into the courtroom by Under Sheriff John Heavey. Dr. Arthur J. It is the minor crimes of the kind referred to which get a foothold insidously and are injurious to the public at large, for being minor crimes they are not suppressed. What has been done will, I believe, stimulate the officers of the law to exercise greater vigilance. I thank you, gentlemen, for your services. You are to agree with your own conscience.

The faces of the jurors were wreathed in smiles as the panel filed out of court. They didn't expect to receive the thanks of the Court and two or three were so relieved that they said they "wanted to holler."

The only poolroom indictments handed up were the bills against Jerry Murphy's seven men. They will be arrested in the near future. Murphy was arraigned in court two or three weeks ago.

The three police commissioners rejoiced last night when they learned that the Grand Jury had reconsidered the indictments against them.

JEWS THRIVE IN THE SLUMS Children Better Developed Than These of Other Races.

Special Cable Despatch to Tus Sun. LONDON, June 10 .- The Lancet published the result of an investigation of the physical condition of children living in the shums of Leeds, which shows a marked superiority of Jewish children in every case taken. The comparison is made with similar conditions in regard to age, degree of poverty, character and residence.

A systematic examination of 3,000 children showed that the poor Jew is three pounds heavier and two inches taller than the non-Jew at the age of 8; six and a quarter pounds heavier and two and a half inches taller at the age of 10, and seven pounds. heavie and one and a quarter inches taller at the age of 12. The bone formation is much more satisfactory. The Jews' teeth are better and there is a striking absence of rickets. The nasal chamber is large and there is remarkable freedom from adenoids as compared with the non-Jews. The differences are attributed to the fact that the Jewess in pregnancy is better cared for and supplies natural nourishment in a larger percentage of cases, while after the breast feeding period Jew chil-dren are fed more sensibly with better food in more abundant quantities and better cooked than that given to the non-Jew.
